General Information

Short summary

A Lithuanian SME active in cosmetic manufacturing offers customized skincare and wellness products developed in its in-house laboratory. The company seeks international partners for commercial and outsourcing agreements to distribute its products or co-develop private label lines.

Full description

The Lithuanian SME specialized in cosmetic manufacturing offers high-quality, customized skincare and wellness products. The company operates a modern laboratory that integrates scientific research with natural ingredients to develop exclusive formulations for facial care, body care, and spa lines.

Its services include full-cycle production: concept development, formulation, testing, certification support, packaging design, and private label manufacturing. The company aims to expand internationally by partnering with distributors or brands seeking custom product development.

The desired cooperation includes:

- Commercial agreements with distributors or agents to represent and sell its product lines in foreign markets.
- Outsourcing agreements with brands or professionals seeking private label production or custom formulations.

The company is committed to sustainability, product safety, and innovation, and seeks long-term partnerships to enter new markets and co-create unique cosmetic solutions.

Advantages and innovations

- Tailored formulations developed per client specifications.
- Integration of scientific research and natural ingredients.
- Full-service production from concept to packaging.
- In-house laboratory ensures quality control and innovation.
- Experience in private label manufacturing and certification processes.
- Products aligned with sustainability goals and current cosmetic trends.
